

PNC Reports Second Quarter 2016 Net Income Of $989 Million, $1.82 Diluted EPS

Strong fee income, well-managed expenses, loan growth

PITTSBURGH, July 15, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. (NYSE: PNC) today reported net income of $989 million, or $1.82 per diluted common share, for the second quarter of 2016 compared with net income of $943 million, or $1.68 per diluted common share, for the first quarter of 2016 and net income of $1.044 billion, or $1.88 per diluted common share, for the second quarter of 2015.

"We had a good second quarter against a backdrop of global uncertainty," said William S. Demchak, chairman, president and chief executive officer. "We grew fee income, along with average loans and deposits, and we announced plans to return additional capital to our shareholders in the coming year. In the wake of the Brexit vote, as lower interest rates weigh on future performance, we remain focused on executing against our strategic priorities to create long-term shareholder value without compromising our risk profile or balance sheet."

CONSOLIDATED REVENUE REVIEW

Revenue				Change	Change
				2Q16 vs	2Q16 vs
In millions	2Q16	1Q16	2Q15	1Q16	2Q15
Net interest income	$ 2,068	$ 2,098	$ 2,052	(1) %	1 %
Noninterest income	1,726	1,567	1,814	10 %	(5) %
Total revenue	$ 3,794	$ 3,665	$ 3,866	4 %	(2) %

Total revenue for the second quarter of 2016 increased $129 million compared with the first quarter driven by higher noninterest income attributable to fee income growth. Total revenue declined $72 million compared with the second quarter of 2015 due to lower other noninterest income partially offset by higher fee income and higher net interest income.

Net interest income for the second quarter of 2016 decreased $30 million compared with the first quarter and increased $16 million compared with the second quarter of 2015. The decline from first quarter was primarily due to lower purchase accounting accretion as well as slightly lower core net interest income. The increase over second quarter 2015 resulted from higher core net interest income partially offset by lower purchase accounting accretion. Core net interest income for second quarter 2016 decreased $8 million compared with the first quarter due to lower securities yields and higher borrowing costs partially offset by loan growth, and increased $63 million compared with second quarter 2015 as higher loan and securities balances and higher loan yields were partially offset by higher borrowing costs and lower securities yields.

The net interest margin was 2.70 percent for the second quarter of 2016 compared with 2.75 percent for the first quarter and 2.73 percent for the second quarter of 2015. The decrease in the margin in both comparisons was driven by a lower benefit from purchase accounting accretion, partially offset in the second quarter 2015 comparison by the impact of lower balances on deposit with the Federal Reserve Bank.

	$ 1,726	$ 1,567	$ 1,814	10 %	(5) %

Noninterest income for the second quarter of 2016 increased $159 million compared with the first quarter primarily driven by strong growth in fee income. Asset management revenue increased $36 million reflecting higher earnings from PNC's equity investment in BlackRock and stronger equity markets. Consumer service fees increased $17 million as a result of higher client activity and seasonal increases in payment-related product activity including debit card, credit card and merchant services. Corporate service fees grew $78 million primarily due to higher merger and acquisition advisory fees and higher loan syndication fees. Residential mortgage banking noninterest income increased $65 million driven by net hedging gains on mortgage servicing rights of $35 million compared with net hedging losses of $8 million in the first quarter. Additionally, loan sales revenue grew on higher production volume. Other noninterest income declined $42 million and included negative valuation adjustments of $51 million primarily associated with nonconforming investments under the Volcker Rule provisions of the Dodd-Frank Act. Other income also reflected net gains on sales of Visa Class B common shares of $31 million in second quarter 2016 compared with $32 million in the first quarter. Net gains consist of gains on Visa sales reduced by derivative fair value adjustments related to swap agreements with purchasers of Visa Class B common shares in connection with all prior sales. The fair value adjustments included the impact of a June 2016 appeals court decision that overturned a previously approved settlement of pending Visa litigation.

Noninterest income for the second quarter of 2016 decreased $88 million compared with the second quarter of 2015 as higher fee income was more than offset by lower other income. Asset management revenue declined $39 million reflecting a second quarter 2015 trust settlement of $30 million. Corporate service fees increased $34 million due to higher merger and acquisition advisory fees and higher loan syndication fees. Fee income growth was also reflected in consumer service fees, service charges on deposits and residential mortgage revenue. Other noninterest income decreased $111 million reflecting valuation adjustments on private equity investments and lower net gains on sales of Visa Class B common shares, which were $79 million in second quarter 2015.

Noninterest expense for the second quarter of 2016 increased $79 million compared with the first quarter reflecting higher variable compensation costs associated with higher business activity and the timing of marketing activities. These increases were partially offset by release of residential mortgage foreclosure-related reserves of $24 million in second quarter 2016. PNC remained focused on disciplined expense management while continuing to invest in technology and business infrastructure.

Noninterest expense for the second quarter of 2016 decreased $6 million compared with the second quarter of 2015 as higher employee benefits expense for medical and pension plans was more than offset by second quarter 2016 release of residential mortgage foreclosure-related reserves and lower legal accruals. Benefits of PNC's effective expense management were reflected in the year-over-year quarter comparison.

The effective tax rate was 24.3 percent for the second quarter of 2016, 23.5 percent for the first quarter of 2016 and 28.2 percent for the second quarter of 2015. The lower effective tax rate in second quarter 2016 compared with second quarter 2015 was primarily attributable to increased tax credit investments.

Additionally, average savings deposits increased reflecting in part a shift from money market deposits to relationship-based savings products. PNC maintained a strong capital position. Common shareholders' equity increased compared with March 31, 2016 due to growth in retained earnings and higher accumulated other comprehensive income primarily related to net unrealized securities gains. These increases were partially offset by share repurchases. The transitional Basel III common equity Tier 1 capital ratios were calculated using the regulatory capital methodologies, including related phase-ins, applicable to PNC during 2016 and 2015 using the standardized approach. The pro forma ratios were also calculated based on the standardized approach. See Capital Ratios in the Consolidated Financial Highlights.

PNC completed common stock repurchase programs for the five quarter period that ended in the second quarter of 2016. PNC returned a total of $4.0 billion of capital to shareholders through repurchases of 29.9 million common shares for $2.7 billion and dividends on common shares of $1.3 billion over the five quarter period. Second quarter 2016 repurchases were 6.1 million common shares for $.5 billion and dividends on common shares were $.3 billion.

In June 2016 PNC announced share repurchase programs of up to $2.0 billion for the four-quarter period beginning in the third quarter of 2016. These programs include repurchases of up to $.2 billion during this four-quarter period related to stock issuances under employee benefit plans. On July 7, 2016, the PNC board of directors raised the quarterly cash dividend on common stock to 55 cents per share, an increase of 4 cents per share, or 8 percent, effective with the August 5, 2016 dividend payment. These capital actions are consistent with PNC's capital plan which was accepted by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in June 2016.

Overall credit quality for the second quarter of 2016 remained stable with the first quarter. Provision for credit losses for second quarter 2016 was $127 million, a decrease of $25 million compared with the first quarter and an increase of $81 million over second quarter 2015. The second quarter 2016 provision included $48 million for loans in the oil, gas and coal sectors compared with $80 million in the first quarter.

Nonperforming assets at June 30, 2016 decreased $37 million compared with March 31, 2016 due to lower home equity and residential real estate nonperforming loans and lower other real estate owned partially offset by an increase in nonperforming commercial loans. Included in total nonperforming loans at June 30, 2016 were $293 million of nonperforming loans in the oil, gas and coal sectors compared with $301 million at March 31, 2016. Nonperforming assets declined $63 million from second quarter 2015 reflecting improvements in the consumer lending and commercial real estate nonperforming loan portfolios offset by higher commercial nonperforming loans reflecting energy related credits. Nonperforming assets to total assets were .70 percent at June 30, 2016 compared with .71 percent at March 31, 2016 and .73 percent at June 30, 2015.

Overall delinquencies improved as of June 30, 2016 compared with March 31, 2016, decreasing $36 million, or 2 percent. Accruing loans past due 90 days or more declined $28 million and the 30 to 59 day category decreased $42 million, or 8 percent. Accruing loans past due 60 to 89 days increased $34 million, or 16 percent, primarily in commercial and commercial real estate loans.

Net charge-offs for the second quarter of 2016 decreased $15 million compared with the first quarter reflecting lower net charge-offs of $28 million for consumer lending and higher net charge-offs of $13 million for commercial lending. Included in commercial lending net charge-offs were $47 million of net charge-offs for loans in the oil, gas and coal sectors in the second quarter of 2016 compared with $25 million in the first quarter. In the comparison with second quarter 2015, net charge-offs increased $67 million due to higher commercial loan net charge-offs. Net charge-offs for the second quarter of 2016 were .26 percent of average loans on an annualized basis compared with .29 percent for the first quarter and .13 percent for the second quarter of 2015.

The allowance for loan and lease losses at June 30, 2016 decreased $26 million compared with March 31, 2016 and $587 million compared with June 30, 2015. The decline in the allowance from second quarter 2015 reflected PNC's derecognition of pooled purchased impaired loans, resulting in a reduction of the recorded investment balance included in total loans and the associated allowance for loan losses balance each by $468 million at December 31, 2015. The allowance to total loans was 1.28 percent at June 30, 2016, 1.31 percent at March 31, 2016 and 1.59 percent at June 30, 2015. The allowance to nonperforming loans was 119 percent at both June 30, 2016 and March 31, 2016 and 145 percent at June 30, 2015.

Retail Banking earnings for the second quarter of 2016 increased in both comparisons. Noninterest income included net gains on sales of Visa Class B common shares of $31 million in the second quarter of 2016 compared with $32 million in the first quarter and $79 million in the second quarter of 2015. Gains on Visa sales were reduced by derivative fair value adjustments related to swap agreements with purchasers of Visa Class B common shares in connection with all prior sales. Noninterest income, excluding the net Visa gains, increased $28 million over the first quarter and $22 million over second quarter 2015 primarily driven by strong growth in consumer service fees. Payment-related products including debit card, credit card, and merchant services increased in both comparisons, with seasonally higher volumes contributing to the increase over the first quarter. Provision for credit losses decreased in both comparisons due to improved credit quality. Noninterest expense increased compared with the first quarter as a result of investments in technology, higher marketing expense and higher sales-related compensation. Noninterest expense declined compared with second quarter 2015 due to lower marketing expense and lower compensation expense associated with the branch network transformation.

- Retail Banking continued to focus on the strategic priority of transforming the customer experience through transaction migration, branch network transformation and multi-channel sales and service strategies.
 - Approximately 57 percent of consumer customers used non-teller channels for the majority of their transactions during the second quarter of 2016 compared with 56 percent and 52 percent for the first quarter of 2016 and second quarter of 2015, respectively.
 - Deposit transactions via ATM and mobile channels were 48 percent of total deposit transactions in the second quarter of 2016 compared with 47 percent in the first quarter and 42 percent in the second quarter of 2015.
 - Integral to PNC's retail branch transformation strategy, approximately 18 percent of the branch network operates under the universal model, including over 100 branches converted in the second quarter of 2016. Universal branches are designed to enhance sales opportunities for branch personnel, in part by driving higher ATM and mobile deposits. PNC had a network of 2,601 branches and 8,993 ATMs at June 30, 2016.
- Average deposits grew 2 percent over the first quarter and 6 percent over the second quarter of 2015 due to higher demand deposits as well as an increase in savings deposits partially offset by lower money market deposits reflecting a shift to relationship-based savings products. Certificates of deposit declined in both comparisons from the net runoff of maturing accounts.
- Average loans decreased 3 percent compared with the second quarter of 2015 as growth in automobile and credit card loans was more than offset by lower home equity, education and commercial loans.
- Net charge-offs for the second quarter of 2016 were $75 million compared with $96 million in the first quarter and $86 million in the second quarter of 2015.

Corporate & Institutional Banking earnings for the second quarter of 2016 increased compared with the first quarter and decreased compared to the second quarter of 2015. Noninterest income increased in both comparisons primarily due to higher merger and acquisition advisory fees, corporate securities underwriting activity and loan syndication fees. Provision for credit losses decreased compared with the first quarter reflecting a lower provision for energy related loans. The provision increased compared with the second quarter of 2015 reflecting relative weakness in energy related loans and continued loan growth. Noninterest expense increased over the first quarter primarily due to higher variable compensation and other costs associated with increased business activity.

- Average loans increased 2 percent over the first quarter primarily driven by increased lending to large corporate customers in PNC's corporate banking business. Average loans increased 5 percent compared with the second quarter of 2015 due to growth in PNC's real estate business, including both commercial real estate and commercial loans.
- Average deposits decreased 2 percent from the first quarter reflecting seasonally lower balances, and declined 1 percent compared with the second quarter of 2015 due to decreases in noninterest-bearing and money market deposits, substantially offset by interest-bearing demand deposit growth.
- Net charge-offs in the second quarter of 2016 were $59 million compared with net charge-offs of $41 million in the first quarter and net recoveries of $19 million in the second quarter of 2015. Higher net charge-offs in second quarter 2016 primarily were on energy related loans.

Asset Management Group earnings for the second quarter of 2016 decreased compared with the first quarter of 2016 and the second quarter of 2015. Noninterest income increased compared with the first quarter reflecting higher average equity markets and new sales production, and decreased compared with the prior year quarter due to a $30 million trust settlement in second quarter 2015. Noninterest expense declined compared with the second quarter of 2015 primarily attributable to lower personnel expense.

- Asset Management Group growth strategies include increasing sales sourced from other PNC lines of business, maximizing front line productivity and optimizing market presence in high opportunity markets. The business is primarily focused on growing client assets under management, building retirement capabilities and expanding product solutions for all customers.
- Client assets under administration at June 30, 2016 included discretionary client assets under management of $135 billion and nondiscretionary client assets under administration of $126 billion.
 - Discretionary client assets under management were consistent with March 31, 2016 and increased $1 billion compared with June 30, 2015 primarily attributable to equity market increases.

Residential Mortgage Banking earnings for the second quarter of 2016 increased compared with both the first quarter of 2016 and second quarter of 2015. Noninterest income increased over the linked quarter due to net hedging gains on residential mortgage servicing rights compared with net hedging losses in the first quarter, as well as higher loan sales revenue. In the comparison with second quarter 2015, higher servicing revenue was partially offset by lower loan sales revenue. Noninterest expense decreased in both comparisons as a result of release of residential mortgage foreclosure-related reserves of $24 million in second quarter 2016, partially offset in the first quarter comparison by increases in origination and servicing costs as well as higher legal accruals.

- The strategic focus of Residential Mortgage Banking is the acquisition of new customers through a retail loan officer sales force with an emphasis on home purchase transactions, competing on the basis of superior service, and leveraging cross-sell opportunities, especially in PNC's footprint markets.
- Loan origination volume in the second quarter of 2016 increased 35 percent compared with the first quarter and declined 10 percent compared with the second quarter of 2015. Approximately 48 percent of second quarter 2016 origination volume was for home purchase transactions compared with 40 percent in the first quarter and 50 percent in the second quarter of 2015.
- Loan servicing acquisitions were $6 billion in the second quarter of 2016, $5 billion in the first quarter and $6 billion in the second quarter of 2015.

The Non-Strategic Assets Portfolio consists of assets primarily obtained through acquisitions of other companies and includes a consumer portfolio of mainly residential mortgage and brokered home equity loans and lines of credit, and a small commercial lending portfolio. The business activity of this segment is to manage the liquidation of the portfolios while maximizing the value and mitigating risk.

- Noninterest income decreased from the first quarter primarily due to a settlement and release of reserves in the first quarter related to home equity repurchase obligations.
- Provision for credit losses increased in both comparisons driven by reduced cash flow expectations on certain purchased impaired loans.
- Net charge-offs were in a net recovery position of $2 million for the second quarter of 2016 compared with net charge-offs of $8 million for the first quarter and net recoveries of $7 million for the second quarter of 2015.

Other, including BlackRock

The "Other, including BlackRock" category, for the purposes of this release, includes earnings and gains or losses related to PNC's equity interest in BlackRock, and residual activities that do not meet the criteria for disclosure as a separate reportable business, such as integration costs, asset and liability management activities including net securities gains or losses, other-than-temporary impairment of investment securities and certain trading activities, exited businesses, private equity investments, intercompany eliminations, most corporate overhead, tax adjustments that are not allocated to business segments, and differences between business segment performance reporting and financial statement reporting under generally accepted accounting principles.

- (b) Dividends are payable quarterly other than Series O and Series R preferred stock, which are payable semiannually in different quarters.
- (c) The effective income tax rates are generally lower than the statutory rate due to the relationship of pretax income to tax credits and earnings that are not subject to tax.

- (a) We believe that core net interest income, a non-GAAP financial measure, is useful in evaluating the performance of our interest-based activities.
- (b) We believe that core net interest margin, a non-GAAP financial measure, is useful as a tool to help evaluate the impact of purchase accounting accretion on net interest margin. To calculate core net interest margin, net interest margin has been adjusted by annualized purchase accounting accretion divided by average interest-earning assets.
- (c) Calculated as annualized taxable-equivalent net interest income divided by average earning assets. The interest income earned on certain earning assets is completely or partially exempt from federal income tax. As such, these tax-exempt instruments typically yield lower returns than taxable investments. To provide more meaningful comparisons of net interest margins for all earning assets, we use net interest income on a taxable-equivalent basis in calculating net interest margin by increasing the interest income earned on tax-exempt assets to make it fully equivalent to interest income earned on taxable investments. This adjustment is not permitted under generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) in the Consolidated Income Statement. The taxable equivalent adjustments to net interest income for the three months ended June 30, 2016, March 31, 2016 and June 30, 2015 were $48 million, $48 million and $49 million, respectively. The taxable equivalent adjustments to net interest income for the first six months of 2016 and 2015 were $96 million and $98 million, respectively.

CAPITAL RATIOS

As a result of the staggered effective dates of the final U.S. Basel III regulatory capital rules (Basel III rules), as well as the fact that PNC remains in the parallel run qualification phase for the advanced approaches, PNC's regulatory risk-based capital ratios in 2016 and 2015 are calculated using the standardized approach for determining risk-weighted assets, and the definitions of, and deductions from, regulatory capital under the Basel III rules (as such definitions and deductions are phased-in for 2016 and 2015, respectively). We refer to the capital ratios calculated using the phased-in Basel III provisions in effect for each year and, for the risk-based ratios, standardized approach risk-weighted assets, as Transitional Basel III ratios. Under the standardized approach for determining credit risk-weighted assets, exposures are generally assigned a pre-defined risk weight. Exposures to high volatility commercial real estate, past due exposures, equity exposures and securitization exposures are generally subject to higher risk weights than other types of exposures.

We provide information below regarding PNC's estimated June 30, 2016 and actual March 31, 2016 and June 30, 2015 Transitional Basel III common equity Tier 1 ratios and PNC's estimated pro forma fully phased-in Basel III common equity Tier 1 ratio. Under the Basel III rules adopted by the U.S. banking agencies, significant common stock investments in unconsolidated financial institutions, mortgage servicing rights and deferred tax assets must be deducted from capital (subject to a phase-in schedule and net of associated deferred tax liabilities) to the extent they individually exceed 10%, or in the aggregate exceed 15%, of the institution's adjusted common equity Tier 1 capital. Also, Basel III regulatory capital includes (subject to a phase-in schedule) accumulated other comprehensive income related to securities currently and previously held as available for sale, as well as pension and other postretirement plans.

(b) Basel III standardized approach risk-weighted assets are based on the Basel III standardized approach rules and include credit and market risk-weighted assets.

(c) Basel III advanced approaches risk-weighted assets are based on the Basel III advanced approaches rules, and include credit, market and operational risk-weighted assets. During the parallel run qualification phase PNC has refined the data, models and internal processes used as part of the advanced approaches for determining risk-weighted assets. We anticipate additional refinements may result in increases or decreases to this estimate through the parallel run qualification phase.

PNC utilizes the pro forma fully phased-in Basel III capital ratios to assess its capital position (without the benefit of phase-ins), including comparison to similar estimates made by other financial institutions. Our Basel III capital ratios and estimates may be impacted by additional regulatory guidance or analysis, and, in the case of those ratios calculated using the advanced approaches, may be subject to variability based on the ongoing evolution, validation and regulatory approval of PNC's models that are integral to the calculation of advanced approaches risk-weighted assets as PNC moves through the parallel run approval process.

Consolidated Financial Highlights (Unaudited)

Tangible book value per common share is a non-GAAP measure and is calculated based on tangible common shareholders' equity divided by period-end common shares outstanding. We believe this non-GAAP measure serves as a useful tool to help evaluate the strength and discipline of a company's capital management strategies and as an additional, conservative measure of total company value.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

We make statements in this news release and related conference call, and we may from time to time make other statements, regarding our outlook for earnings, revenues, expenses, capital and liquidity levels and ratios, asset levels, asset quality, financial position, and other matters regarding or affecting PNC and its future business and operations that are forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act. Forward-looking statements are typically identified by words such as "believe," "plan," "expect," "anticipate," "see," "look," "intend," "outlook," "project," "forecast," "estimate," "goal," "will," "should" and other similar words and expressions. Forward-looking statements are subject to numerous assumptions, risks and uncertainties, which change over time.

Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date made. We do not assume any duty and do not undertake to update forward-looking statements. Actual results or future events could differ, possibly materially, from those anticipated in forward-looking statements, as well as from historical performance.

Our forward-looking statements are subject to the following principal risks and uncertainties.

- Our businesses, financial results and balance sheet values are affected by business and economic conditions, including the following:
 - Changes in interest rates and valuations in debt, equity and other financial markets.
 - Disruptions in the U.S. and global financial markets.
 - The impact on financial markets and the economy of any changes in the credit ratings of U.S. Treasury obligations and other U.S. government-backed debt, as well as issues surrounding the levels of U.S. and European government debt and concerns regarding the creditworthiness of certain sovereign governments, supranationals and financial institutions in Europe.
 - Actions by the Federal Reserve Board, U.S. Treasury and other government agencies, including those that impact money supply and market interest rates.
 - Changes in customers', suppliers' and other counterparties' performance and creditworthiness.
 - Slowing or reversal of the current U.S. economic expansion.
 - Continued residual effects of recessionary conditions and uneven spread of positive impacts of recovery on the economy and our counterparties, including adverse impacts on levels of unemployment, loan utilization rates, delinquencies, defaults and counterparty ability to meet credit and other obligations.
 - Commodity price volatility.
 - Changes in customer preferences and behavior, whether due to changing business and economic conditions, legislative and regulatory initiatives, or other factors.
- Our forward-looking financial statements are subject to the risk that economic and financial market conditions will be substantially different than those we are currently expecting. These statements are based on our current view that the U.S. economy will grow moderately in the latter half of 2016, boosted by stable oil/energy prices, improving housing activity and moderate job gains, and that lower short-term interest rates and bond yields in the aftermath of Brexit will hold fairly steady before gradually rising late this year. These forward-looking statements also do not, unless otherwise indicated, take into account the impact of potential legal and regulatory contingencies.
- PNC's ability to take certain capital actions, including paying dividends and any plans to increase common stock dividends, repurchase common stock under current or future programs, or issue or redeem preferred stock or other regulatory capital instruments, is subject to the review of such proposed actions by the Federal Reserve Board as part of PNC's comprehensive capital plan for the applicable period in connection with the Federal Reserve Board's Comprehensive Capital Analysis and Review (CCAR) process and to the acceptance of such capital plan and non-objection to such capital actions by the Federal Reserve Board.
- PNC's regulatory capital ratios in the future will depend on, among other things, the company's financial performance, the scope and terms of final capital regulations then in effect (particularly those implementing the international regulatory capital framework developed by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (Basel Committee), the international body responsible for developing global regulatory standards for banking organizations for consideration and adoption by national jurisdictions), and management actions affecting the composition of PNC's balance sheet. In addition, PNC's ability to determine, evaluate and forecast regulatory capital ratios, and to take actions (such as capital distributions) based on actual or forecasted capital ratios, will be dependent at least in part on the development, validation and regulatory approval of related models.

- Legal and regulatory developments could have an impact on our ability to operate our businesses, financial condition, results of operations, competitive position, reputation, or pursuit of attractive acquisition opportunities. Reputational impacts could affect matters such as business generation and retention, liquidity, funding, and ability to attract and retain management. These developments could include:
 - Changes resulting from legislative and regulatory reforms, including major reform of the regulatory oversight structure of the financial services industry and changes to laws and regulations involving tax, pension, bankruptcy, consumer protection, and other industry aspects, and changes in accounting policies and principles. We will be impacted by extensive reforms provided for in the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act") and otherwise growing out of the most recent financial crisis, the precise nature, extent and timing of which, and their impact on us, remains uncertain.
 - Changes to regulations governing bank capital and liquidity standards, including due to the Dodd-Frank Act and initiatives of the Basel Committee.
 - Unfavorable resolution of legal proceedings or other claims and regulatory and other governmental investigations or other inquiries. In addition to matters relating to PNC's current and historical business and activities, such matters may include proceedings, claims, investigations, or inquiries relating to pre-acquisition business and activities of acquired companies, such as National City. These matters may result in monetary judgments or settlements or other remedies, including fines, penalties, restitution or alterations in our business practices, and in additional expenses and collateral costs, and may cause reputational harm to PNC.
 - Results of the regulatory examination and supervision process, including our failure to satisfy requirements of agreements with governmental agencies.
 - Impact on business and operating results of any costs associated with obtaining rights in intellectual property claimed by others and of adequacy of our intellectual property protection in general.
- Business and operating results are affected by our ability to identify and effectively manage risks inherent in our businesses, including, where appropriate, through effective use of third-party insurance, derivatives, and capital management techniques, and to meet evolving regulatory capital and liquidity standards. In particular, our results currently depend on our ability to manage elevated levels of impaired assets.
- Business and operating results also include impacts relating to our equity interest in BlackRock, Inc. and rely to a significant extent on information provided to us by BlackRock. Risks and uncertainties that could affect BlackRock are discussed in more detail by BlackRock in its SEC filings.
- We grow our business in part by acquiring from time to time other financial services companies, financial services assets and related deposits and other liabilities. Acquisition risks and uncertainties include those presented by the nature of the business acquired, including in some cases those associated with our entry into new businesses or new geographic or other markets and risks resulting from our inexperience in those new areas, as well as risks and uncertainties related to the acquisition transactions themselves, regulatory issues, and the integration of the acquired businesses into PNC after closing.

- Competition can have an impact on customer acquisition, growth and retention and on credit spreads and product pricing, which can affect market share, deposits and revenues. Industry restructuring in the current environment could also impact our business and financial performance through changes in counterparty creditworthiness and performance and in the competitive and regulatory landscape. Our ability to anticipate and respond to technological changes can also impact our ability to respond to customer needs and meet competitive demands.
- Business and operating results can also be affected by widespread natural and other disasters, pandemics, dislocations, terrorist activities, cyberattacks or international hostilities through impacts on the economy and financial markets generally or on us or our counterparties specifically.

We provide greater detail regarding these as well as other factors in our 2015 Form 10-K and our first quarter 2016 Form 10-Q, including in the Risk Factors and Risk Management sections and the Legal Proceedings and Commitments and Guarantees Notes of the Notes To Consolidated Financial Statements in those reports, and in our subsequent SEC filings. Our forward-looking statements may also be subject to other risks and uncertainties, including those we may discuss elsewhere in this news release or in our SEC filings, accessible on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov and on our corporate website at www.pnc.com/secfilings.
