PNC Healthcare Collaborates With AccessOne To Deliver Patient Financing Offering To Clients

Patient financing solution provides unique options for providers and consumers to better address out-of-pocket costs

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- PNC Healthcare today announced a collaboration with AccessOne, an industry leader in patient financing solutions, to deliver consumer financing capabilities to healthcare providers and insurers. Working with AccessOne, PNC will help healthcare providers enhance financial performance and improve patient relationships, while also facilitating their ability to provide various financing options for consumers to manage escalating healthcare costs.

"PNC is committed to bringing our healthcare clients innovative solutions that not only meet the changing needs of our world, but also address the important needs of our provider and payer clients," said Brian Kelly, managing director and head of PNC Healthcare. "The healthcare industry has experienced significant disruption over the last several years and even more change during the current healthcare crisis. The new financing capability delivered by AccessOne provides flexibility and payment options to patients, members and those providing them with care."

Working together, PNC will provide streamlined, efficient workflows for its clients, and AccessOne will provide its range of consumer-friendly financing solutions. From those, providers and payers can select the right payment plan packages to meet the diverse needs of their business and their financial goals, all while improving the experience for their patients and building loyalty for their business. These programs are designed with patient's needs in mind, providing the capability of mobile optimized online access to their monthly payment plan, as well as 24/7 support to answer any personal questions based on their individual financial needs.

"AccessOne, working with PNC Healthcare, will enable many more consumers access to the care they need, especially in these uncertain economic times," said Mark Spinner, CEO of AccessOne. "For providers and payers, this program enables a strategically proactive approach to affordability by providing all patients with positive, flexible and equitable payment plan options. Through AccessOne's financing solution, patients can get the care they need to live their healthiest lives."

For more than 25 years, PNC Healthcare has recruited and maintained a team with extensive experience working with the the healthcare industry. This team has designed and delivered fully integrated solutions and strategic services that help providers and payers maximize working capital, streamline revenue cycle processes, mitigate risk and access capital. The goal of this specialized group is to identify and deploy the right solutions to help providers and payers achieve their business and service goals.
