PNC Bank Announces Agreement To Provide Banking Services To North Carolina Central University

Program Offers Financial Education, Access to Virtual Wallet Student® with Low Cash Mode™, Organizational Financial Wellness

DURHAM, N.C., June 14, 2021 – As preparations for the 2021-22 academic year take shape, PNC Bank has finalized an agreement with North Carolina Central University (NCCU) to provide banking services and financial education programs for the school's students, faculty and staff. The agreement builds on a longstanding tradition of collaboration between PNC and the NCCU campus community, a relationship rooted in economic development and mentorship.

"NCCU is committed to helping ensure our students receive the highest-quality education and graduate prepared for life," said Akua Johnson Matherson, NCCU chief financial officer and vice chancellor for Administration & Finance, Division of Administration and Finance. "Financial literacy is central to this, and our arrangement with PNC Bank will help our students gain access to financial knowledge and tools that can help empower responsible decision-making."

All of us at PNC are excited to embark on this journey with NCCU, an institution that is so integral to our region," said Jim Hansen, PNC regional president for Eastern Carolinas.

Supported by a University Banking team with a deep understanding of the higher education ecosystem, PNC will deliver educational resources about money management and provide convenient financial services to the campus community.

"All of us at PNC are excited to embark on this journey with NCCU, an institution that is so integral to our region," said Jim Hansen, PNC regional president for Eastern Carolinas. "For today's students and tomorrow's workforce, establishing a foundation for financial literacy is crucial for future success. PNC is committed to providing resources and tools to help build that foundation, such as Low Cash ModeSM, a feature that helps customers manage through low-cash moments and avoid unnecessary overdraft fees."

The scope of the agreement includes:

- Virtual Wallet[®] Student accounts, which feature digital tools including Low Cash ModeSM, a game-changing technology that helps customers avoid overdraft fees and take control of payment decisions when balances are low or turn negative.
- PNC My Finance Academy, a virtual financial education program featuring articles, podcasts, videos and other resources that are easily accessible to students and can help them work toward building healthy financial habits.
- Three on-campus ATMs, including one advanced-function DepositEasySM ATM that allows users to withdraw cash (including $1 bills), deposit and cash checks, deposit money into their accounts and interact with a PNC advisor.
- A co-branded affinity debit card featuring an image representative of the NCCU Eagles, available to all PNC account holders.
- A co-branded website, hosted by PNC Bank, where students and employees can complete account applications, and find financial and educational information.
- PNC Organizational Financial Wellness, a suite of solutions empowering employees in this case, NCCU employees to help improve their financial health.

PNC Bank has relationships with more than 400 schools across 19 states and the District of Columbia to provide banking services as well as financial education programs.
