

David Reynolds Named St. Louis Market Leader For PNC Private Bank

ST. LOUIS, May 18, 2023 – PNC Private Bank has appointed David Reynolds to lead its St. Louis-based team. In his role as senior vice president and PNC Private Bank market leader, Reynolds collaborates with an established local team of advisors, strategists, private bankers and relationship managers to deliver customized wealth strategy, investment management, trust & estate and credit & cash management solutions to help clients achieve their financial goals and fulfill unique purposes for their wealth.

With 20 years of demonstrated success in wealth management and investment advisory roles, Reynolds most recently served as senior vice president and wealth director for PNC Private Bank's Cincinnati market, when he solidified his reputation as a strategic advisor, dynamic team leader and generous mentor.

“David’s commitment to achieve the highest level of client satisfaction and his extraordinary enthusiasm to contribute to his new home community of Greater St. Louis make him the ideal leader for this important and growing aspect of PNC’s local business,” said Michael Scully, PNC regional president for St. Louis. “His appointment to this role comes at a consequential time for the private banking industry as the greatest generational wealth transfer in history begins to take shape.”

In addition to serving Greater St. Louis’ high-net-worth individuals and families, Reynolds and his team lead the local delivery of services for PNC Private Bank Hawthorn, which offers family office services for ultra-high-net-worth families and individuals. In addition, they provide business succession planning solutions to help family-owned and privately held businesses preserve their legacies and ultimately create a philanthropic impact throughout the region.

Reynolds earned his bachelor’s degree in business administration from Bethany College in Kansas and holds Certified Financial Planner, Chartered Financial Consultant and Accredited Asset Management Specialist designations. A fitness enthusiast and community champion, Reynolds combines his passion for physical health and community service as a volunteer firefighter. Organizations that have benefited from his volunteerism and board service in his former home community of Cincinnati include CancerFree KIDS, the United Way of Greater Cincinnati and the American Heart Association.
