

PNC Bank Listed as Commercial Vendor on Treasury's Financial Management Quality Service Management Office Marketplace

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13, 2025 – PNC Bank, N.A., has been listed as a commercial vendor on the Department of Treasury's Financial Management Quality Service Management Office (FM QSMO) Marketplace. Placement on the marketplace as a commercial vendor designates PNC Bank as a trusted provider for federal agencies seeking compliant financial management solutions and services.

"PNC has a long history of providing strategic, cutting-edge financial services to federal agencies and public entities," said Emma Loftus, executive vice president and head of Treasury Management for PNC Bank. "Being listed as a commercial vendor on the FM QSMO Marketplace underscores PNC's expertise in serving the public sector and supporting federal agencies as they seek to modernize their operations."

Commercial vendors on the marketplace offer products, services and solutions that meet emerging needs of federal agencies and help support strategic goals. The FM QSMO pre-vets providers and offerings to ensure they are able to comply with baseline standards and federal requirements and capabilities. Periodic evaluations are carried out by the FM QSMO to ensure quality and ongoing compliance.

PNC's services on the marketplace are provided through PNC Federal Solutions — a specialized group within the bank's Treasury Management business that for decades has worked alongside the federal government to offer products and services that help them address challenges and obstacles. PNC Federal Solutions helps federal agencies modernize by providing creative solutions and emerging technologies with an emphasis on digitization, automation, effortless adoption and speed to market. Core services provided by PNC Federal Solutions include Integrated Receivables, Integrated Payables and Fraud Risk Services.
