PNC Bank Signs Lease for New Office at HALL Park in Frisco, Reflecting Continued North Texas Growth

FRISCO, April 7, 2026 – PNC Bank has signed a lease for new Class-A office space at HALL Park in Frisco. The new office will support PNC's continued growth in North Texas and will serve as a workspace to members of the bank's corporate, commercial and private bank teams beginning in late 2026.

"PNC's teams are already active in Frisco, and we have hired additional members to execute our strategy there, adding to the legacy teams serving this market today," said Brendan McGuire, PNC regional president for North Texas. "As Frisco and Collin County continue to grow, PNC is expanding both office space and branches in the area to meet the needs of this community. This new office reflects our continued momentum and long-term commitment to North Texas."

Located in the heart of Frisco, HALL Park offers an amenity-rich, mixed-use environment designed to support connectivity, convenience and collaboration. The development includes dining, green space and access to Kaleidoscope Park, while The Tower at HALL Park features modern workspace, outdoor terraces, meeting areas, a fitness center and a corporate lounge.

"PNC Bank is a highly respected financial institution, and we are proud to welcome them to HALL Park," said Craig Hall, HALL Group founder and chairman. "Their continued investment in North Texas reflects both the strength of this market and their long-term commitment to the region. We value this partnership and look forward to supporting PNC's growth."

PNC's investment at HALL Park adds to the bank's existing office footprint across North Texas and complements its recent retail branch opening in Frisco. Together, these investments reflect PNC's integrated approach to serving clients across retail banking, corporate banking, commercial banking, small business, and private banking, while continuing to deepen the bank's presence in one of the fastest-growing areas in the region.
